

EASA ANNUAL CONFERENCE 2022 FIRST ANNOUNCEMENT AND CALL FOR PAPERS

Theo Paul Vorster

THEME:
OCEANS OF WISDOM, MOUNTAINS OF KNOWLEDGE,
WINDS OF CHANGE

DATE: 9 - 12 January 2022

VENUE: THE CENTURY CITY HOTEL
CAPE TOWN
SOUTH AFRICA

Background information:

Never before has it been necessary to cancel an EASA conference due to a world-wide pandemic, but this was the unfortunate situation with the EASA conference in 2021. With EASA 2022, the educational world is looking to the future with hope and positivity, as if looking over the wide ocean that will surround delegates in Cape Town in 2022.

The organising committee welcomes delegates from all over the world, to the Cape of Good Hope, where the two oceans meet. We will gather to share findings and prospects, and savour the educational world, like the salt from the sea.

It is our wish that delegates will return to their institutions after the conclusion of this conference, enriched and refreshed, and that the experience opened horizons of hope and confidence, so that we can sail ahead and not be engulfed by storms of despair.

CALL FOR PAPERS

Oral paper presentations, symposiums, workshops, round table discussions and poster presentations are the formats of presentation at the EASA 2022 Conference. There is a possibility that virtual presentations will be accepted (please indicate if you are interested in presenting your presentation online).

Presentations within the following themes are invited for presentation at the conference:

Conference themes

Basic Education - Small waves gathering momentum to rush to the shore

This theme will address the sub-themes of basic education, such as early childhood education, inclusive education, diversity in education, literacy, educational management and much more.

Teacher Education - Teach them to fish

Discourse regarding the sub-themes of preservice teacher programme design, teaching and learning, assessment, teaching practice and all issues dealing with Teacher Education is of importance in this theme.

Higher Education - The cloud over Table Mountain

The 'tablecloth' on the mountain is a sign that the Cape Doctor is blowing, bringing clean fresh air to Cape Town. This theme will consider sub-themes dealing with TVET and adult education, community education and training, online learning, student and lecturer wellness, student resilience, the soft skills needed to cope in Higher education.

Social Justice issues in Education - Blowing in the right direction

For ships to dock safely in the harbour, it is of utmost importance to pay attention to the direction and strength of the wind. This theme deals with sub-themes relating to the changes that are called for in education today, in order to bring stability in an uncertain arena, issues in education addressing vulnerability, promoting equality, are central to this theme.

Digital Education - Gale force winds

We are living in the 21st century and the gale force winds of technological advancements are blowing. The sub-themes covered deal with education during the fourth industrial revolution (4IR), new media, mobile learning, blended learning, computer mediated learning and instruction, and endless other virtual possibilities.

The impact of a world-wide pandemic in education - Cape of storms

Stormy waters lashed at the world of education during the Covid19 pandemic and the total lockdown which was instigated worldwide. 2021 was indeed a turbulent year with wave upon wave of a dreaded disease engulfing the human race. And yet, there are brilliant uplifting stories of resilience, innovation, growth, tales of humanitarian assistance and communities sharing in order to cope. The sub-themes cover all challenges faced in education during Covid19, discoveries that were made and victories that were celebrated.
